GALLAGHER AT LONG ODDS.

Mr. Dade's Good Starting Won Him the Plaudits of the Spectators-Brulare Wins in Consistent Form.

Merry wedding bells of Cupid and Psyche made discordant and clamorous tintinnabu-lation compared with the harmony which marked the opening of Delmar Park race marked the opening of Delmar Park race track yesterday.

Everything went off beautifully. Just the right number of favorites won to put the form players at ease with the world; then two select good things helped the wise people, while good play and nice breaks helped the bookmakers. The crowd was a tremendous one for a first day, the play brisk and the running excellent.

and the running excellent.

By all means the feature of the day was the debut of Starter Dade. Mr. Bruen has made many quite as good starts as Mr. applause for them. Mr. Dade did splendidly, and was widely applauded every time he got a good start away. Two of his efforts, right in front of the stand, were masterpleces and caught the crowd. After the races he was holsted on the "shoulders of the populace," as the political reporter says, and carried off the track. It was a red-letter day in the annals of the tall and handsome young Kentuckian, Indeed, Mr. Dade's work was good. Not Indeed, Mr. Dade's work was good. Not so much in his starts as in that he got a lot of bad actors—whom Mr. Bruen found himself repeatedly unable to get away—off in good shape. Belie Simpson, Miss Mae Day and Fred Hessig, three of Mr. Bruen's betes noires, were sent away in splendid style by Mr. Dade. The boys worked hard for him, and Willie Harris, who will be wielding the flag some day himself, did some tremendous stunts with the bad actors. Harris's handing of Peter Duryea in the stake race was wonderfully fine. He got a splendid break for Mr. Dade with two nasty horses in the race.

New Track Was a Second Slow.

The track proved all right, but about a spiendid break for Mr. Daoe with two nasty horses in the race.

New Track Was a Second Slow.

The track proved all right, but about a second slow to the mile. The stretch is slightly uphill. It tries the strength and atamina of a horse. All the races were run in good time until the horses atruck the stretch. The last quarter was noticeably allow. The rather abrupt turns were well negotiated. The banking is perfect.

The beautiful clubhouse—a sight worth seeing in itself—was crowded with visitors. The grand stand was graced by the presence of an unusual number of ladies.

The Inaugural, the feature race of the day, was won by Blink, with Ethel Wheat second and Peter Duryea third. On the whole, it looked like a falsely run race, though mudders did well on the track, and Blink is a mudder for true. Still, it really did seem as if Skillman, Peter Duryea and Peaceful are better horses than either Blink or Ethel Wheat. These three began bumping one another at the first turn, and kept it up all the way, while Blink and Ethel Wheat were running freely in front. At the six furiongs Blink put on extra steam and gained ground, while Ethel Wheat were running as if hitched to one of those Russian drossics. Blink gained a lot of, ground here that proved useful later on when they hit the stretch and began the climb, Peter Duryea, stout and seasoned old boy, commenced to overhaud the leaders. He swing too wide, and Stockwell could not aid him a bit at the end, while wedderstrand for a capital race on Blink, and O'Nelli did all he could for Ethel Wheat, who finished on her courage. In the terrific drive Blink won in the daylight, with Peter Duryea was held at 50 to 1, ran a stout race, and, trying it over again, he would come near winning with a rider on him. Peaceful scarce likel the soft top, but it is a good bet he, too, can do better. The way much fincied in the first race, 2-year-olds, Aegin ran over Mr. Schreiber's fine filly in the stretch. O'Nelli chucked it up on Jungtrau long before the fully was beaten, though she co went to Givens here, even if he did not do his best.

Eda Riley took the second race from a lot of bad ones in a gallop. Quanah Parker, off bad, closed a lot of ground and ran a stout race.

Bus Johnson capered home in the fourth race an easy winner. Matt Hogan, backed to win it all, was second and Hansborough, who ran a much improved race, third. Two Annies, left at the post, ran a very good most, almost getting into the money.

The fasture of the sixth race was Gilmore's bad ride on Miss Patron, or the mare's bad run under Gilmore. Mr. Finn's house have been running well to form all masson. Miss Patron figured there yesterday and ran a bad race, though it looked like her kind of going. W. J. Baker ran his small poor race, although he was Peaceful Peter Duryea and Skillman bumped each other all the way in a terrific jam. Blink and Ethel Wheat had free going and assumed a long lead while all this was going on. Ethel Wheat seemed to dislike the going and did not run her race. Peter Duryea came up the hill at the finish, going like a locomotive. He had to go round his horses and was strongest at the end. Peaceful likes an admanting track. He was badly tousled in the jam. Skillman stopped in the stretch, hurt by weight, interference and the hill. ly. Eugenia S. had enough when she struck the hill. Belle Simpson got away well under an improved boy, O'Neill, and finished in the money. Amelia Strathmore was suited by the track and finished stoutly.

That gem of consistent performers, the mare Brulare, who runs like a gontleman's horse should, annexed the last race handily. It was funny to see bettors play Miss Mae Day, a 4-year-old, to beat this good 6-year-old at even weights. Brulare can give her ten pounds. Mr. Orr's good horse, Grantor, finished a sturdy second, and a good day's sport was wound up.

LIMITED NUMBER OF THE SMART SET AT CLUBHOUSE.

That contingent of townspeople usually denominated as the smart set was not largely represented at the opening of the Delmar Jockey Club clubhouse, partly on account of the fact that many St. Louisans are at the summer resorts and partly on account of the extreme heat of the day.

Naturally, everything was in gain array, so far as the house and its appointments are concerned. Edward Prestorius and Russell Gardner, who belong to the House Committee, spent the morning overseeing the brew of fine Rhine wine punch which was served within the house; and took care that palms and flowers were properly placed for decorative purposes. The clubhouse is furnished very tastefully, and is a most attractive place.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Orthwein were among the notables present. Mrs. Orthwein were a handsome white mustin gown much trimmed with lace insertions, accompanied by a big Gainsborough of white chiffon and plumes.

Mr. and Mrs. Dutkiel Cabanase found a breezy spot on the upper plants, where they spent the afternoon. Mrs. Cabanase's rown was an ever lace over pale bigs, the fact.

appliqued in French embroidered rose. Her hat was an ecru lace shepherdess, with flaring blue satin bow in the front.

Mrs. Med Johnson came out quite late in the afternoon, chaperoning a large party of girls. She wore a grass linen gown dotted in white and appliqued in large white satin disks, each outlined in white silk cord. The Eton and skirt were thus ornamental, while beneath the coat was a dainty blouse of shirred white chiffon, with long sash ends of chiffon sweeping out to the train. Her hat was a small one of ecru straw roughly braided and trimmed with white and a dash of geranium red.

Miss Amelia Spence, in pink muslin; Miss Burroughs, also in pink appliqued in black lace insertions; Miss Celeste Albers, in blue and white; Miss Mabel Powers, wearing white pique, and Miss Lyons, in pale blue, were in Mrs. Johnson's charge.

Miss Maud Lillian Berri made her appearance on the plazzas in a pale purple silk muslin, with cream-colored lace.

James Drummond, Sidney Walker, Robert Mudd, Alan Simpkins, of the summer widowers, were also on the plazzas. R. Park Wedelstaedt Joined them with Gus V. Brecht.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jannopoulo and Mr. Park Wedelstaedt joined them with Gus V. Brecht.
Mr. and Mrs. John Jannopoulo and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Southwell sat in a cool corner. Mrs Jannopoulo wore white mercerized liven with an embroidered blouse and a rose-trimmed hat, while Mrs. Southwell was in blue and white foulard, her hat of black and white.
Mrs. Rudolph Limberg and Miss Koehler arrived late Miss Koehler wore a smart black and white gown of dimity, trimmed in narrow black veivet ribbon.
Miss Emily Francis and Miss Marie Bauduy were also late, driving up to the clubhouse with friends.

Racce at St. Joseph.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

St. Joseph, Mo., July 1.—The midsummer race meet at Lake Contrary will open to-morrow. A large number of horses are in training at the lake grounds, and some fast ones are entered for the several contests. The meet will be for four days.

The programme for to-morrow follows:
The programme for to-morrow follows:
First race, 3:09 trotting class, purse $400.
Second race, 2:19 pacing class, purse $400.
Third rece, one-hair mile running, purse $60.
Fourth race, five furiongs, mile running, purse Fifth race, six furlongs, running, purse $100.

form of the horses vary very much from the Fair Grounds. The turns were well made by all kinds of horses yesterday.

The track is soft and cuppy. The hill in the stretch makes most especial difference. He needs be a stout horse and a good finisher to climb it. Strong finishers will do extra well at Delmar Park. With two unknowns, both "good things in soft spots" that have been "prepped" for this special race, one must be careful in the first event to-day. It is whispered that both Foraker and Connor Boy are cracks of the first water, long held up for a killing to-day. Maybe so. If they are, they have nothing to show for it. Though Carat did nothing yesterday—he was illy handled by a stable boy and finished stoutly—he should win to-day. Ben Hempstead belongs to the successful Fizer stable, which is trained by the clever Tom Kiley. He has one good race behind Zoraide and Monte Himyar to his credit. Potheen, a slow beginner, is a strong finisher, and should be third. Phonolite is too slow a beginner to worry about, though he should do well enough to show if not left at the post.

The second race embraces about the worst lot that ever got together. Nan Dora's last race was a fair one, though she was easily beaten by good ones and beat nothing. Tom Gilmore had one fair race to show. Mace Russell's race behind Zonne, Menace and that good lot last week entitles him to some respect. He had a stable boy up that day, and with a jockey on him is entitled to some confidence. Clara M. was played for a hot thing last time out in a better field, but did not get off. Orlanding was good over a route at Kinloch last fall when the track was new as Delmar is now. She will like her weight to-day.

Badle Burnham has one fair race to show. As mudders were good yesterday and as Elsle Barnes and Eight Bells figure best Elsle Barnes and Eight Bells figure best in the fifth race. Eight Bells ran a strong race last time out, and should do so to-day. Arbitrator was good enough to win a few races at Bennings last spring, but they were not of an imposing nature. Cherry Head showed good speed last time out. Eight Bells should win, with Elsie Barnes second and Cherry Head third. On his race back of Rushfields the other On his race back of Rushnelds the other day, Judge Steadman should beat Orris to-day. The track will suit him to a T. Ma-con was a crazy horse on Saturday, and his runaway did him little good. Zonne should be second to-day and Orris third.

Doctor Street Praises Mr. Dade's Starting—Independence Weights.
Aegin won the first race over the new track. G. G. Moshler owned him and A. Weber rode him. Barney Schreiber wanted to win with Jungfrau; so did O'Neill, though he quit before the filly did.

Doctor S. W. Street, who is James R. Keene's right-hand man when a ticklish job of training is to be done, said yesterday that Mr. Dade had in him the material of a great starter. "This young man," said Doctor Street, "is bred right for the business. He comes from the bluegrass, has always been a horseman, knows what horses need when they are in action, and all that Take my word for it, he will make a good one. The St. Louis people and the newspapers are hypercritical and make a man work hard all the time. Give this man a chance, and he will defy criticism in a short time. I have been on the turf thirty years, and I know a few things."

Miss Patron ran a poor race yesterday, though it seemed her day, Mr. Finn's horses have all been exceedingly true to form. Gilmore let Miss Patron be butted out of the race in the early part, though she was off well, and Jim Gilmore seemed to try hard as they began the stretch climb, but the mare did not answer his call. It was probably one of those natural flexious of form which will occur.

RACING AT SHEEPSHEAD. Sweet Tooth, at Good Odds, Took the

New York, July 1.—Hatasso and Rossignol were equal favorites in the Vernal Stakes at Sheepshead Bay to-day, but the most money went on the former. Rossignol made the running to the stretch, and then Hatasso went to the front and won easily. In the Racing Stakes, Glennellie was the choice, but she did not show. Annie Thompson took up the running with the favorite, who died early, and held the lead to the stretch, where J. H. McCormick's Sweet Tooth came in against the rail like a whirlwind and won very easily at the remunerative odds of 15 to 1.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

New York, July 1.—Commando is now ready for the Realization. He got his final work this evening about 6 o'clock. Spencer had the mount, and rated the colt rather unevenly for a mile and a half, and then took him in hand. Pulled up, he finished the race distance in 2:93 4-5. The actual trial was a furlong less. The great colt did not appear to be extended in any part of the route. Nevertheless, he went the first three-quarters at a sprinting clip, the pace diminishing thence to the end. The trial was eminently satisfactory, and the colt's admirers were gratified when he cooled out with no indication of soreness.

The fractional time was 12, 27, 294, 120, 2-5, 1:34 1-5, 1:27 1-5, 1:40 2-5, 1:35 4-5, 2.37, 2:30 3-5, 2:34 2-5.
